MR. GARCIA: Let's call the meeting to order. Good morning. Welcome to you all. Thank you for being here. Thank you for your interest in the work of this board and thank you for your interest in the district. We'll start with the invocation, and I'll turn it over to our capable leader, Mr. Gilzean.

Thank you. I'd like MR. GILZEAN: Thank you. to bring up Pastor Peter Valdie (phonetic). Testing. Ah, there we go. So I'd like to bring up -- I have a heartfelt gratitude for my friend, Pastor Peter Valdie of First Orlando. He's a cherished member of the Central Florida community since 1978. Through his career, Peter has wholeheartedly dedicated his life to the faith-based community and with over 30 years of contribution beyond his professional endeavors. He served on a number of board and acted as a vital link within our Hispanic community here. He had -- in addition to that he has his own radio show on iHeart Radio with several years on the airwaves and doing some amazing work here in Orlando, Tampa, and Jacksonville. With that said, Pastor Peter, please come on up.

MR. VALDIE: (phone rings) That was a great sound effect for me to come up. That was. First o all, I'd like to thank the board for the invitation and the opportunity to come and just do the invocation. And it's in these trying times, much necessary prayer is needed. Let us pray. Father, we thank you this morning first of all, for waking us up and allowing us to be here. In the midst of the storms outside that we physically feel, there are many storms also happening within ourselves. And I just pray that you would give this board direction, that you would lead them to make the right decisions for our community as a whole. And I pray that every word that is said be gratifying to you, and that together we will make a difference for Reedy Creek, for Central Florida, and for the State of Florida. We pray all these things in Jesu's name. Amen.

ALL: Amen.

MR. GARCIA: Pastor, thank you for those blessings. And now let's honor this great nation with the Pledge of Allegiance. Please stand.

ALL: I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible with liberty and justice for all.

MR. GARCIA: Okay. The safety procedure,

MR. FERNANDEZ: Good morning. Thank you, Mr.
Chairman, and members of the board, and to our guests and visitors, we'd like to start the meeting
the way we normally do with some safety announcements for everyone. And I'd like to ask the board, please, to pardon my turning my back to you as I address everyone in the audience. So in the event of an evacuation, we ask that you exit through the doors either on your right or on your left through the front of the building where you enter.
There's also an exit on the rear of the building if you follow the exit signs through this door. In the event of first aid or AED, we have both of those if those are necessary at the security desk in the front. And if you do make your way out to the parking lot, our employees will be wearing a safety vest. A couple of employees will be charged with wearing a safety vest and be at the ends of the parking lot. Please make your way to those areas so that we can account for everyone who is in the building. Thank you very much and enjoy the meeting.

MR. GARCIA: Thank you. And before we get to public comments, I want to welcome our new director, Charbel Barakat. I've known and worked with Charbel for many years, and what I can tell you about him is that he's smart as a whip, very capable lawyer, very successful businessman, and has an extensive background in public finance and real estate development, which will bring a very important dimension to this board and the work that we will be doing. And he will help the rest of the board in our mission when our mission is to institute new and better governance practices, to create more financial transparency, and to evaluate new urban planning strategies and opportunities for the district, and most importantly, to promote more prosperity for more people within the district and outside of the district. So Charbel, welcome. We're all looking forward to working with you, sir.

MR. BARAKAT: Thank you, Mr. Chair, for that -- that kind of intro. I appreciate it.

MR. GARCIA: Yes, sir. And now, public comments. We have one from Debbie McDonald. Welcome back. And just remind us if you're here in a representative capacity, if you represent anybody. If not, if you're here individually, that's wonderful too.

MS. MCDONALD: Just here individually. Thank you again. Nice to see you, gentlemen, and welcome, I was losing people. I'm sorry? Press the That's better. Okay. Thank you very much. I just returned from a trip to New York City, and interestingly enough, I did my chatter. On the plane, I talked to everyone around me and people, as I'm going through the city, and asked about 100 people what they thought was going on here, what they felt about Disney, and Central Florida, and the recent changes we've had here with the district. And I guess it was quite -- I shouldn't have been surprised or shocked. But I was quite surprised. The majority of what I was hearing is as you know, we're, of course, a tourism area. This is what we're all about. We come here, people that stay here are in some way are either connected or people in this tourism industry. And what I heard from those people is they didn't want to come to Florida anymore. They didn't want to come to Central Florida particularly anymore. Miami maybe was fine or Naples, but they didn't feel welcome. This was from people of all types, people with just friends and their family, or maybe they had someone that they just didn't feel that they were welcome. very disturbing to me. We have a -- what I feel is a tremendous example of an inclusive, warm, well-run corporation, The Walt Disney Company. And we have a government coming in to take control, which is just what my perception is. I met with Glen because I told him some of my concerns about my area, Osceola County where I live, where our concerns are more about our education, the homeless, our -- our daily lives that we go about, and we are being affected. We are being affected. When friends aren't coming and when people I just meet complete strangers on the street, don't feel welcome to come here anymore, it's -- it's hurting the attendance numbers. don't know what those are. They don't release them, but I'm sure you-all can find out. But I do know from our local businesspeople, our local hoteliers, hotel operators that they're already feeling the number change. So while you're going about whatever it is you're doing, in my opinion, to launch the presidential campaign of Governor DeSantis, we are being hurt. So in our effort to help the area and to bring more to the area, I'm just a mom. I'm just a family person that lives in this area. This is my And I plead for you again to take a deeply look at what you're doing, why you're doing it, and consider, again, diplomacy. Talking to the other

But it's time to sit down at the 4 5 table. Diplomacy is hard. You have to keep doing 6 it, but eventually, it works. passing the proclamation. I'll start off with the first slide, which is Ms. Kyra Smeller who is retiring. I'd like to announce the upcoming retirement of our valued member of our organization, Battalion Chief of Fire Prevention Ms. Kyra Smeller. After 33 exceptional years of dedicated service, Kyra has dedicated and decided to embark in a new chapter in her life. And I just want to take a moment to celebrate that awesome career of hers. Her unwavering commitment to fire safety and prevention has made a profound impact on our district and our community. Throughout her tenure, she has consistently demonstrated outstanding leadership, expertise, and excel at data analysis. As we bid farewell, we would also like to celebrate the incredible achievement she's made throughout her tenure. We'd like to express our deepest gratitude for her dedication, passion, and immense impact she has made on our organization and within our district. Please extend a warm welcome to Ms. Kyra as she get ready to start her new chapter. Kyra, where are you? Come on up. We have a nice little proclamation and award for you. Would you like to say a few words before the award is received?

MS. SMELLER: Oh, I guess just that I was lucky enough to work here for all these years. I've been here through every chief except for the first one.

And it's a great place to work. I mean, I wouldn't change anything about it. I've work with most -- most everybody in here that is a Reedy Creek employee, and we've had great working relationships, no matter whether I was a hourly or a manager. We were well taken care of, so that's all I got to say.

MR. GILZEAN: Awesome. Thank you. So we -- on behalf of the board and the board chairman, again, thank you for your dedication. Thank you. Do you guys want to steal those photo, is that okay? Can I get you to do a quick photo? And we'll -- where would you like us to stand?

MS. SMELLER: Right there.

MR. GILZEAN: Right here. Okay. So Board

Members, get used to this. We're going to do this.

Give you your award.

OVER I want to scoot over a little bit lighting.

We're going to take a step that way. Get a little closer to Martin. Kind of bossy. Try to make it look good. Well, you look fabulous. Okay. Great.

Can I get one of the chief too? Is that okay?

UNIDENTIFIED FEMALE 2: Yes, please. 1 MR. GILZEAN: Oh, yeah. 2 3 MR. GARCIA: Can I be with the chief, too? 4 MR. GILZEAN: Yeah. 5 MR. I would also like to 11 announce the retirement of Bruce Jones, our esteemed 12 director of procurement at the district. After an 13 incredible journey spanning over 20 years in our 14 organization, Bruce has also decided to move on to 15 something fun and exciting in the new chapter. 16 Bruce's unwavering dedication, exceptional 17 leadership, and extensive experience have been an 18 invaluable asset to our team and the company as a 19 whole. His remarkable contribution, and growth, and 20 success of our procurement department is 21 immeasurable. Over the past two decades, Bruce has 22 consistently demonstrated his expertise, integrity, 23 and unwavering commitment to excellence. Prior to 24 joining the district, Bruce spent 13 years as a 25 principal contractor at the Walt Disney Engin- -- your faces here. And, you know, over a period of, well, 20 years and six months, I think it'll be by about the end of this month when I retire, you do interact with a whole lot of people at a very professional level. Everyone here is just so professional in how they perform their jobs. -- I can't imagine working for a more professional organization. It's been a pleasure, and it's been an adventure. You know, as Mr. Gilzean mentioned, I started with Walt Disney Imagineering back in 1990, and got a tremendous amount of experience in project delivery, which prepared me well for the roles that I've had here at Reedy Creek Improvement District. So you know, that's it. I want to say thank you to some people in particular, though, I would be remiss in not doing so. Every single director here I've worked very closely with, thank you. Mr. Classe, thank you, sir. Tremendous mentor and a classy guy. Fits his last name very, very well. You know, he taught me grace and I think patience, right? with that, I think I'll say thank you again, and we're done. Okay. MR. GILZEAN: All right. Okay. I recently had

These programs will bridge the gap between the academic learning and real-life application while nurturing a pipeline of skilled professionals. We have over 44 different degree programs at all the different levels, the associates of arts, associate of science up to the bachelor's degree programs, and we're growing those as well. over 100 certificate programs at the college. we have a ever growing accelerated skills training area at the college, so we are sending students out into a lot of different industries in accelerated skills. We have two different types of insur- -internships. We have an exploration internship program that provides students with career exploration and activities for their educational plans, but then we have the traditional standard internship where we send students to -- to fine tune their skills in the industry, get hired in the industry, and they are spread all over Central Florida. Right now, Valencia is in the exercise of organizing all of our workforce programs into six different schools. We only have two or three right We're going to have six in the future, School of Arts and Entertainment, School of Business and Accounting, School of Computer Science, School of Health Sciences, School of Hospitality, Tourism, and Culinary, and the School of Public Service and Legal Studies. Currently we're the School of Public Safety. I'm the executive dean there. So I want to give a shout out to Chief LePere. We have a very strong partnership with the chief and his team here at Reedy Creek. We serve over 3,700 law enforcement officers at the School of Public Safety, nearly 3,000 firefighters from 12 different agencies to include Reedy Creek Fire. Just some quick-fire numbers, we have nearly 1,000 enrollments in advanced specialized fire at the School of Public Safety, and Chief LePere sends a lot of his firefighters to us for that. We have over 1,000 enrollments in our fire science degree program. what's unique about fire science, they have ten different -- different industry certifications that they articulate into our college credit degree program at the college. So they are exercising that option on a very regular basis where they can earn up to 20 -- over 20 credits in our degree program. And I just want to highlight one other quick program. We have a very comprehensive Public Safety Leadership Program in Central Florida at Valencia, and Reedy Creek Fire, the chief has sent 15

employees over the years to that leadership program, and he is a huge supporter of that program. hope to continue that with the new chief. We are -it's very bittersweet. We have such a wonderful relationship with Chief LePere, but he's leaving, and we understand it's time for retirement. thank you, Chief, for all your support at Valencia in the School of Public Safety. And before I turn it over to Dave, we're -- we're adding a another, we think, very contemporary program, a bachelor of applied science in public safety administration. So we can train our leaders in public safety to protect the millions of millions of tourists and residents here in Central Florida. And I tell everybody, when I get a chance to be at a -- public safety in Central Florida has to protect two to three Super Bowl crowds every day, so we take it very seriously at Valencia. And I'm going to turn it over to Dave to talk about partnerships and upscaling Valencia.

MR. GIORDANO: Good morning, and thanks again for having Valencia College here this morning. What I'm here really to talk about very quickly is about partnership. And so, what I do -- my name is Dave Giordano, and I'm the Senior Director for Outreach and Recruitment. And what I do is go out in the community and connect our opportunities that we have at Valencia College to those that potentially would want those opportunities. And then once graduates graduate, they need positions. They need jobs. They need opportunities, right? So my job, again, is to connect them to those opportunities. So I have a staff of six people that go out in the community. You'll see us on nights. You'll see us on weekends. You'll see us all over the place. And I have a staff of three right now that will be growing. that's a placement team. And what they do is directly connect organizations with graduates, and it can be any graduate that we have. We have 135 programs that are degree programs or certificates. So there's a lot of different graduates that are coming out of the college at all times. We have 19 accelerated skilled training programs, and those are trade skilled programs. So if you need welders, or you need people to do electrical powerline, electricians, heavy equipment operators, CNC machinists, those kinds of positions, even clinical medical assistants, we're having them graduate on a regular basis. So -- we have a language program as well, which has been very, very popular. We are connecting directly with organizations such as yours, and we want to do that, and anybody else that's here in the audience, we would love to connect as well. We will go right to the organization. We do that all the time. Matter of fact, I was at Disney and Amazon last week. We have over 5,000 people that have taken a program that are Disney cast members already that have started about five years ago, and Amazon made about 3,000 associates that are now taking programs. So we go directly into those organizations, and they have a direct connect to us in terms of how they can pay for the programs. Our job is not to just graduate people from programs. Our job is to graduate, and then have them have opportunities in business, and that's what we want to do. So as you're looking at your needs, and you're looking at your growth, and it can be upscaling of current employees. It could be new employees that you're looking for opportunities. Think about Valencia College. I've had really great experience over the last five years in this position of partnering. I -- I go all in when I do it. So when you need something, reach out to Valencia, reach out to me. I'll be there for you. Any questions? MR. GILZEAN: No, sir.

MR. GILZEAN: All right. The next thing on my -- in my report, Mr. Chairman and members of the board, is that the Central Florida Tourism Oversight District is super excited about hosting local high school students via CareerSource Summer Youth This is a four-week summer program where Program. students will receive a paid internship of $15 an hour through CareerSource. These students are coming from NeoCity Academy High School in Osceola County, which is one of the top ten STEM high schools in the State of Florida. And we're excited about hosting these students come next month. Our colleague from CareerSource has sent us a note saying that they got caught up in traffic, and they won't be here. we'll be excited about moving forward. And again, I'm excited about announcing this partnership. thing I have, next slide, is that we're kicking off -- in one of my remarks at the very beginning, I talked about how important it is to be a good neighbor. And as you can see, working with partners like Valencia College and CareerSource, I think the other thing that we have to do is also buy local. The significance -- by prioritizing local businesses, we have an opportunity to make a positive impact in our community and ensure that our local businesses share as partners in our continued long-term success. For example, there's over 9,000 vendors across all industries registered to do business in the State of Florida where their place of business is located right here in Orange and Osceola Counties, of which the numbers who are actually registered with the state as minority vendors, that number is 260. And something that's cl- -- that's near and dear to my heart is figuring out how can we support our veterans who go out So there's a total of 40 veteran businesses that are registered with the state. And I want to make that distinction. local economy. Every purchase that's made with a local vendor directly contributes to creating and sustaining jobs while ensuring profit stays within our local economy. By investing in our community, we become vital partners not only to the business, but to the citizens who benefit from the investments staying here. Quality products and services, local vendors often take great pride in their work and are dedicated to providing exceptional products and services. By choosing local, we can ensure that we've seen a high quality good while meeting our standards and promoting the sense of trust and reliability. And lastly, is the personal relationships, when we buy local, we have an opportunity to build personal relationships with vendors. These relationships foster collaboration and deeper understanding with the district needs, leading to better outcome and tailored solutions. Local vendors often go the extra mile to meet the expectation and provide personal customer service. So we're really excited about this effort going forward. All right. Now, as you guys have seen with Ms. Erica Washington Perry (phonetic), she's really bossy, so she made sure that this social media slide was in here. No, I'm joking. But I'm during the last board meeting, I mentioned the creation of advisory boards. We are in the process of discussing what the board will look like with the goal and importance of honest and open conversations that deals with most of the misinformation that is currently out there. pleased to say that yesterday's meeting was very productive. And one of the things that I had an opportunity to do with Steve, and as I shared, it's always important to get feedback from our -- our community. I got his feedback, and I am pleased to announce that we have a brand-new logo. And there it is. This is our brand-new logo. I was able to get some feedback from not only staff, taxpayers, but we felt that this is super important. And I'm thrilled to announce the upgrading our government digital identity and brand. After weeks of multiple planning, exploration, pleased to reveal this fresh, new bright -- brand-new, exciting logo. And this is a new chapter in our history. And with that said, I'm confident that this new look will not only enhance our brand recognition, but also resonate with millions of guests who visit our district each and every year. With that said, Mr. Chairman and members of the board, that concludes my manager report.

MR. GARCIA: Ah, thank you very much, Mr. Gilzean. And on behalf of the board, I want to thank you for taking the initiative to recognize the chief and the other retiring members of our staff there is nobody more important to us in the work of this organization than our employees. And the fact that you're reaching out to -- to the local universities and other constituents really speaks volumes about your leadership, and we're deeply appreciative for that. So thank you for that wonderful report. Next, Mr. Langley, do you have any comments? Do you have a presentation?

MR. LANGLEY: No presentation, but I do have a few things. It's hard to follow that -- all the slides. I don't have any slides. So apologies for But I have two things. So first of all, I'm recommending and requesting from the board that we hold a closed-door executive session on union negotiations pursuant to Statute 447.605 Florida statutes to meet this Friday at 8:30 a.m. to discuss union negotiations. And we'll post that meeting shortly. And that'll be a meeting, closed door, no public is allowed to attend that. It will be the board members, Mr. Gilzean, myself, and then the labor attorneys. So that's my request. And we'll go ahead and move forward with that unless there's any objections. Second thing is I'm requesting a closed- door litigation strategy meeting with the board and the litigation counsel, myself, and my partner to discuss the pending litigation filed by Walt Disney Parks and Resorts USA, Inc., both the state and federal cases. I think it's a good time to have a closed-door meeting to have discussions and elicit input from the board, and seek your guidance, and discuss litigation strategy and expenditures. So we will, unless there's any objection, schedule that for the July meeting or sometime either before or after the July meeting. That also will be a closed-door meeting. We will, of course, have a -- we'll open will be during the public meeting discussing that we'll be doing the private meeting. And then we'll -- after the meeting, we'll come out back to the public session and close it. I do not have any further things in my report unless you have any questions for me.

MR. GARCIA: Any questions from my fellow board members?

MR. BARAKAT: Not at this time. Thank you.

MR. GARCIA: Okay. The -- thank you very much, Mr. Langley. The -- the next item on the agenda is Resolution 644. And before I ask Mr. Langley to walk us through the formalities of that resolution, just want to comment briefly that, you know, I hope you all have seen that I think at almost every board meeting, this board has adopted a new governance policy or practice. And that's because when we were appointed to this board, the first thing we did is -- is ask for what -- what are the board policies, and we discovered that there essentially were no board policies. And as a -- as an independent government agency, it's our obligation to function pursuant to best practices, and best practices obligates us to have board policies and practices. And this is a -- another one that we'll add. You'll see at our next meetings and the meetings after that that we will continue to add policies and practices to make us a -- a legitimately independent governing entity. And the current one that we're going to adopt here today is a whistleblower policy. And one of the bits of feedback that we received shortly after being appointed to this board is that some of our staff and employees felt like maybe their grievances or concerns or new ideas were falling on deaf ears with respect to the prior board. And we, as a board, want to make sure that our policy is to be open, honest, transparent, and receptive to ideas from anybody, including our staff and employees. And so, we're adopting a formal whistleblower policy. That's -- that's new to the district. hopefully, that sends a message that the culture here is from the board's perspective, we want to hear from you good, bad, and ugly, whatever it is. So with respect to that, let me turn it over to Mr. Langley to go through the formalities of our adopting this resolution.

MR. LANGLEY: Thank you. Before I read the resolution, I did want to note that we do have two members of the board appearing virtually, and I just want to make sure that they're on because we will

So when 7 the chair calls to vote on this item, just make sure 8 Thank you. All right, Resolution number you vote. 9 644, the resolution of the board of supervisors of 10 the Central Florida Tourism Oversight District 11 adopting a whistleblower policy for district 12 employees, this is a public hearing. We do have 13 with us today a lawyer with Ford Harrison, which is 14 the district's labor and employment law firm. 15 think it's Jessica Walberg, correct? 16 MS. WALBERG: Yeah. 17 MR. LANGLEY: Okay. If you have any questions 18 about the particulars of the policy -- so as the 19 chair stated that we are proposing a whistleblower 20 policy to essentially request that -- or give our

MR. LANGLEY: Okay. If you have any questions about the particulars of the policy -- so as the chair stated that we are proposing a whistleblower policy to essentially request that -- or give our employees the ability to come to Mr. Gilzean or the HR department and report any -- in good faith any violation they suspect of any federal, state, or local law, rule, or regulation committed by another employee or an agent of the district. We're independent contractors, so that those matters are taken seriously and dealt with in appropriate And also, if they believe there's any act or suspected actor gross mismanagement, malfeasance, misfeasance, gross waste of public funds, or gross neglect of duty committed by any employee or agent of the district, or any independent contractor. What it makes it clear in this policy is that we welcome employees to come forward to report these things to the appropriate channels. And that in doing so, we want to make sure that they understand that there will be no adverse action taken against the employee for doing so. There is a Florida Whistleblower Act that this policy does not try to override, this supplements it and gives direction on the employees that who the appropriate channels are for making such reports. And with that, I -- I really don't have anything further. We do have a delayed effective date in the resolution with respect to the union employees. And it gives Mr. Gilzean the ability to delay the effective date even further if he feels that's necessary in dealing with the union on this particular policy. With respect to nonunion employees, it would take effect immediately. Unless there's any questions for me, I ask that you consider this resolution for adoption. And at this time, I don't believe we have any speakers, but I would ask if there are any public comments, that now would be the appropriate time for someone to make a comment on this resolution since it's a public hearing. MR. GARCIA: Debbie? Yes, ma'am. Did you want to make a comment?

MS. MCDONALD: No, this is a federal policy. It applies to --

UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: Microphone?

MS. MCDONALD: -- every corporation.

MR. GARCIA: Did you want to come up to the microphone, please?

MS. MCDONALD: I guess my only question would be this is a federal policy that we all learned about in business school 101. It's for every corporation, every business in the country. And I just am curious why it needs to be specifically adopted? I mean, it's every employee realizes there was a whistleblower policy, and you're protected under the federal government. You comply. complain to OSHA and go through this. It's -- it's unspoken, just like our right to nondiscrimination or other rights that are prevalent in every business. And I guess I'm just curious why the need to adopt specifically for Reedy Creek or to keep bringing in policies that seem to be generic that are already well established? So thank you.

MR. GARCIA: The answer to that question is that we want to encourage open and honest government, and we want to establish a culture of --for the employees so they feel free to come forward. And when we took over these responsibilities, the information we received is that certain ideas and other issues were falling on deaf ears. And so, we want to make a public statement as a board. We want to adopt a policy that says we don't have deaf ears. Nothing will fall on deaf ears. And so, if you have an issue, here is a new policy, here is a new culture, and we want you -- we want to -- want you to be heard. And so that's why we're specifically doing that.

MR. LANGLEY: And if I might add to that is this resolution gives the employees specific direction on who the appropriate people are to make — to make these reports. And this policy is similar to what other local governments do. I mean, a lot of employers have a whistleblower policy. So you know, it's not necessarily correct to say that just because it may be in federal and state law, that it's not appropriate to adopt the policy, because most local governments have policies like this so they can make it clear to the employees who to report to, because it's important who to report to in order to have the protections under -- under the policy or under state law. So that's one of the things that does. In addition, it -- as the chair said, it gives a strong statement by this board of their encouragement to make it clear that there is this process in place, and it is encouraged to report these things. So anything that is against our policies or misfeasance, malfeasance, gross mismanagement could be corrected. So it is an important policy to have. Thank you.

MS. MCDONALD: Thank you.

MR. GARCIA: And you may find, too, that we will be superfluous as a board in promoting good policy. And we don't mind being superfluous in promoting good policy. So you may see more of that. But thank you for your question. So is the -- we need a vote on this, Mr. Langley?

MR. LANGLEY: We need a motion, and a second, and then a vote.
